

We are all special

During circle time we looked at our similarities and differences, hair and eye colour and our likes and dislikes. We talked about being special and how, despite all being different, we are all special to God. We took turns to talk about what makes us special. We then made paper plate faces of ourselves.

